

Inspection table for quilts

The quilt will stop on the conveyor to be inspected, thereafter the quilt will be turned to make it possible to inspect opposite side. If a fault is detected the inspector push a button and the machine will reject the faulty product.